Under the Island

Once upon a time in a far galaxy, was a magical island called Fantasy Island. All the community was having a lot of fun playing and building the city, except two of them who were working hard to keep the huge island the best place to visit. The name of those hard workers is Oxal and Enrick. Those two built the island and were there since the beginning. But that day, Oxal woke up from a really strange dream, she dreamt about a gigantic world under Fantasy Island, and that got her thinking, is there something under Fantasy Island? Has Enrick been hiding something under there. She decided to go to Enrick's room and wish him a good morning.

- Good morning Enrick! How are you today?

- Oh, hey Oxal! A little tired but great! How about you? Answered Enrick.

- Well last night I had a really weird dream that got me thinking a lot! Said Oxal while grabbing her head.

- What was that dream geezus? Asked Enrick.

Oxal explained all of her dream to Enrick, who was listening like never before, he looked like he knew what she was talking about and it got her to ask him the big question.

- Is there really some kind of city under Fantasy Island or am I just crazy?

- To be totally honest, there is a hidden city under Fantasy, though it has been closed for good and no one ever went back there since it was closed and we never talked about the Under Island City again. Answered Enrick

- How can we get to the City? I NEED TO KNOW!??? Said Oxal with big stars in her eyes.

- I don't you should go there. It's dangerous but I know you won't listen to me and you will try to go there by yourself so I'm telling you right now if you REALLY want to go there, I will go with you... I will let you think of it, I don't want you to answer me right now! Take the night to think of it and come and tell me tomorrow.

- Okay Boss! Have a good day! Yelled Oxal all Happy about the news

She had been asking herself what kind of dangerous thing there could be there...

animals, monsters or maybe magical creatures. She thought of everything, at the end of the day she went back in her house, but the nervosity and the extreme thinking kept her awake a big part of the night. On that not sleeping time she packed some stuff she may need in the city like ropes, clothes, food, a lot of food, water bottles, rubber band, etc. She was all packed up and ready to sleep!

After a good three hours of sleep, Oxal woke up and went to take a good shower before going on the big adventure, because she knew there was probably no shower there since it was closed. After the shower time, comes the coffee time. Then she took her suit case and walked to work. When she arrived, Enrick was already there, she told herself he probably stayed here all night working on his stuff. She still decided to walk up to him to give him the answer she has been wanting to give.

- Good morning cutie! How you doing?

- Good morning babe! Oh, I'm good! answered Enrick with a huge smile on his face.

Before Oxal got time to tell him her answer, Enrick said

- have you packed up everything you needed to go to the Under Island City?

surprised she told him everything she put in her suit case.

- That's good! Hope you are ready because we are going as soon as Terra and Lewis will come here. They will run the Island while we will be away! Said Enrick.

- Wow how do you knew I wanted to go? Asked Oxal...

- I know you oxal, by asking you to answer me later it gave me time to prepare everything I needed to do before I would go away with you, and before you ask, no I have not slept today. replied Enrick after taking a huge sip of his coffee.

- Oh right... I'll let you work now, bye cya later!

Oxal went back to her office and started her everyday work but she was really impatient for the amazing trip she was about to have!

A few hours later, Terra and Lewis entered the building, and because of the excitement, Oxal couldn't contain her emotions.

- HIII TERRA AND LEWIS!! I'M SO HAPPY TO SEE YOU OMG! Yelled Oxal while jumping.

- Oh, hi Oxal. Have a nice adventure! You better tell me everything you saw there when you get back. Said Terra.

- Yes of course I will! Replied Oxal.

- Yeah have fun there! Said Lewis.

- Thanks Lew Lew! Replied oxal with a big smile.

Oxal ran to Enrick's room and entered like a kid at Christmas.

- TERRA AND LEWIS ARE HERE! Can we go now?

- Yes we can! let me close my computer. Answered Enrick.

- Okay I will go get my stuff!

After they both got their stuff and packed it all in the car, Enrick drove in some places Oxal never saw. Before, she felt like she knew every little hidden place of Fantasy Island, but now she feels like she just a newbie! Enrick warned her it would be a really long ride and that she should bring her charger or her headphones. On the way there, she slept about 1 hours and the rest she listened to her music.

After a couple of hours, Enrick said they have arrived, but when Oxal looked around all she was able to see was trees and a really old abandoned house that could fall in one thousand pieces if the wind was too rough.

- Hmm... I think we are at the wrong place. All I can see is trees and an old house. Said Oxal.

- No trust me we are at the right place. I've been here a thousand of times. Replied Enrick with a little cute smile. Follow me and I hope you are ready to see what's under Fantasy Island.

- Oh, yasss I am ready! Replied Oxal all excited.

Oxal followed Enrick in the really old house. She didn't want to admit it in front of him but the house was kind of scary... Enrick took the beautiful red carpet on the floor and asked Oxal to remove it with him. Under this carpet was a huge carpet with a sign on it saying "Do Not Open!". But Enrick didn't seem to care and just opened it. When he opened it, a really hot wind came out and hit the face of Oxal.

- You should remove your coat Oxal. It's really hot down there. Said Enrick.

- Okay... Replied Oxal.

As she was walking to the car, she fell on the floor because of a rock. She was kind of embarrassed but she continued walking to the car. Then she walked back to Enrick and fell again on that stupid rock... This time Enrick laugh a little bit.

- Are you done kissing the floor? Said Enrick while laughing.

- Hahaha really funny. Replied Oxal really embarrassed.

- You ready to go? Asked Enrick to the best floor kisser.

- Yeah, I guess. Let's go! Replied Oxal.

Enrick told Oxal to follow him into the really dark cavern in the floor.

Everything was really dark and they could hear really strange noises from creatures she never heard of before. All those weird noises were getting louder and louder every second and Oxal was getting a little scared but she was excited at the same time. When suddenly something touched her foot. Oxal yelled like she never yelled before and jumped on Enrick.

- WHAT THE HECK WAS THAT!? IT TOUCHED MY FOOT.

- That was probably just plant or something, There's a lot of them down here. You'll have to get use to them. Replied En.

- Oh yeah... You're probably right.

As they were walking into the long cavern, Oxal couldn't stop asking herself what the Under Fantasy was going to look like. Maybe a really exotic or like floral place or like really dark with lava everywhere. She really couldn't figure it out.

After a while walking in the darkness, they finally got to a really strange rock door with leaf all over it, but Oxal saw multiple little circle on the really weird entrance. Enrick asked Oxal to hold his phone while he was searching for something. Oxal was wondering what Enrick was searching, when he took a really shiny purple ore. He told Her to back off a little bit and placed the magnificent ore in one of the little round on that old door. Suddenly, the door started cracking and finally cracked open to leads to the Under Island. Oxal was speechless. She couldn't speak or move.

She was just there looking at all the Exotic world there was out there. She never knew all those stuffs were hiding under their famous Fantasy Island. So much plants and trees everywhere, but not like the common pink trees, no, some purple and blue trees! A lot of magical creatures of all kind were running, swimming and flying all around. It was huge and so impressive, she was so impressed that she almost walked on a creature that was on the floor.

- Hey Oxal look where you walk! Yelled Enrick!

- Oh, sorry little creature! What's the name of that kind of animal? Asked Oxal.

- It's called a Lavadia. It's a kind of reptile that could be very helpful for us! they love humans but they probably haven't seen one in a long time. When a Lavadia choses you, no others can get to you, he will protect you till he dies. Replied Enrick while picking up the little reptile on the floor and putting it in Oxal hand.

- Aww he is so cute! We should give him a name! What about ruby? Said Oxal.

- Great name, but we should continue, there's still a lot of stuff you haven't seen.7

- Oh, okay let's go then! Answered Oxal.

After walking in the really dense jungle for what seem like 3h, they finally got in a really old village made entirely of cobblestone. That village looked like no one has been taking care of it for a really long time. As they were walking on the gravel path, Oxal noticed a really strange and almost scary black shadow.

- Euhhh Enrick... Do you see that? Whispered Oxal.

- See what? I don't see anything. Answered Enrick.

- Don't you see the really scary shadow there? Oxal pointed the place where she saw it but it was gone.

Enrick looked around but saw nothing.

- No I don't see it! Let's go I want to show you something. There's this house that seems to be open! Want to look inside? Asked Enrick.

- Euhh I guess... Said Oxal kind of scared and worried about the shadow that disappeared.

As they were entering, Enrick stopped, the shadow was there in front of him.

- Oxal don't move... Now I see the shadow. Whispered Enrick.

- Ah see! I told you. Replied Oxal.

Enrick noticed the shadow was getting closer and closer to them.

- Oxal get back outside really slowly, don't make any sudden moves. Whispered En.

As she was walking back outside she missed a stair and fell on the floor, suddenly the creature started running towards them.

- Quick Oxal get up! Yelled Enrick.

Suddenly the shadow stopped and started talking.

- Heyy are you okay? Said the creature

- Who are you? Show yourself. Said Enrick.

The dark shadow walked out of the house and revealed what kind of creature she was.

- Hi... I'm Dawn... I'm the last Azadia of the Under Island... I'm sorry if I scared you... I just want to have people to talk to, I've been alone for a really long time.

- Oh well welcome in our team I guess! Said Enrick with a big smile on his face.

- May I ask one question? Asked Oxal.

- Sure! Answered Dawn.

- What is a Azadia?

- An Azadia is me. They were my family, Members of my community. We lived in that little village and we loved to take care of little creatures that needed help... answered Dawn.

- Ah okay thanks you! Answered Oxal.

- As you can see you found a Lavadia! You're lucky they are rare. Said Dawn.

- Yeah, I almost walked on him but Enrick told me he chose me so now he is following me. Heyy do you want to come with us? Asked Oxie

- Really? Omg thank you so much! Answered Dawn.

- Let's go now! We will stop at the huge pound of water up there for the night. Said Enrick.

On the way to the pound, Oxal and Dawn had a really long conversation about creatures, food and a lot of others topic.

Arrived at the pound of water it was night and Enrick laid on the floor to sleep. Oxal and Dawn did the exact same thing. The water sound was really relaxing and in a second, all of them were sleeping.

Oxal had an awesome dream that night. She dreamt about all the creatures and about everything she saw in the day. But that didn't last long when she heard:

- Good Morning Oxal. Said nicely Enrick.

- Not already........ Replied Oxal

- Oh yeah! We have a lot of see today, I hope you're ready. Take a little snack and we are ready to go.

- Good morning miss Oxal! Said Dawn

Oxal took a muffin she brought out of her bag. She restarted the conversation she had with Dawn the previous day. Oxal told Dawn all she dreamt about, but this time Dawn explained her why Under Island closed.

- It was a really long time ago... It was a beautiful day till a really nice creature started attacking a citizen for no reason... That day, Enrick decided to closed Under Island to protect everyone and that day was the beginning of the sad days of Under Island.

- Oh, that's really bad... It's almost impossible that a creature attack for no reason. Where's that creature now? Asked Oxal

- He is hidden and I don't know where he is... Replied Dawn.

- I know where he is... Said Enrick.

- Can't we go see him and tell him to explain why he did that? Asked Oxal.

- I'm not going to visit him.

- PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE.... Yelled Oxal.

- Okay Fine! Stop asking, but I'm not talking to him! Said Enrick.

- I'll talk! Said Oxal.

All of them walked up a really big mountain and on the way up Enrick was telling Oxal everything about this little creature she was going to meet. After a while of climbing, they finally got to a cave entrance. It was really dark inside the cave and a little cold wind was coming out of there. Oxal, Dawn and Enrick entered the cave one by one. In the cave, there was a lot of plants and some insects walking on the walls. Suddenly they all heard a really loud noise, they all stopped but continued right after... Oxal was getting a little worried but she wanted to fix the problem and reopen Under Island.

- Hello... Is there anyone here? Asked Oxal with a shaking voice.

- What do you want. Replied the creature.

- Can I ask you some questions? It's about the day you attacked someone, I want to understand, because I'm sure you haven't done that for no reason.

- You want to know the story?? Here it is: That day I was really happy to meet people like every day! Everything was going perfectly, then a really weird person entered and I felt like something wasn't okay, I could feel something was about to happen, so I started looking out for everything, making sure everything was alright, when I saw the guy stealing some of our resources and stealing some of our creatures and taking foods from the creatures. I had to protect Under Island, I wasn't going to let him escape like this, so I jumped on him to free the creatures and everything he stole. Everyone thought I was attacking him for no reason and when I tried to explain everything to Enrick, he didn't listen to me and closed our magical Under Island and now no one talk to me and everyone is scared of me.

The little creature started crying... Suddenly Enrick started feeling bad. Before Oxal could say anything, Enrick talked.

- I am sorry buddy... I always thought you attacked him for no reason, but I didn't take the time to actually listen to what you had to say. If I can do anything for you to forgive me, I will do it...

- There's one thing you can do... Reopen Under Island. I don't care if people are still ignoring me after this or if everyone is still scared of me, but I just want everyone to know that we still exist and that there's an amazing community under Fantasy Island. replied Tim, the creature.

- If that is what you really want, I will Tim… Said Enrick.

A few days later, Enrick was announcing the big reopening of Under Island, and explained to everyone what happen and gave a public apologize to Tim. He also named the little creature, the new king of Under Island, and since that day, Dawn rebuilt a new village with all her new friends and Tim made a bunch of new friends which rapidly became his best friends. Now humans and Under Island creatures live together in peace for the rest of their life.

The End

Enrick Fortier